She cheers, she shouts, she sings for Gro ver Cleveland.

We'll wave our banner free and high, As we bid this song a fond "good bye," Adieu, adieu, adieu Grover Cleveland. -Mrs. Minnie Kramer

TEMPERANCE READING

ONLY AN HOUR.

About 1860, a gentleman from New York, who was traveling in the South, met a young girl of great beauty and wealth, and married her. They returned to New York and plunged into a mad whirl of gayety. The young wife had been a gentle, thoughtful girl, anxious to help all suffering and want, and to serve her God faithfully; but as Mrs. L-, she had troops of flatterers. Her beauty and dress were described in society journals; her bon mots flew from mouth to mouth; her equipage was of the most attractive in the park. In a few months she was intoxicated with admiration. She and her husband flitted from New York to Newport, from London to Paris, with noobject but enjoyment. There were other men and women of their class who had some other worthier pursuit-literature or art, or the elevation of the poorer class-but Land his wife lived sorely for amusemin s They dressed, danced. flirted, hurried from ball to reception and from opera to dinner. Young girls looked at Mrs. L- with fervent ation, perhaps with envy, as

About twenty years later, she was returning alone from California when an accident occurred on the railroad train in which she was a passenger, and she received a fatal internal injury. She was carried into wayside station, and there, attended only by a physician from neighboring village, she died.

The doctor who attended her has said that it was one of the most pain ful experiences of his life. "I had to tell her she had but an hour to live. She was not suffering any pain; her only consciousness of hurt was that she was unable to move, so that it was no wonder she could no believe me." "I must go home," sl.e said, imparatively, to New York"

"Madame, it is impossible. If you are moved it will shorten the time you have to live."

"She was lying on the floor. The brakemen had rolled up their coats to make her a pillow. She looked about her at the little dingy station with the stove, stained with tobacco, in the midst."

"'I have an hour, you tell me?' " Not more."

"And this is all that is left me of the world? It is not much, doctor, with a half smile.

locked the door that she might not be disturbed. She threw her arms over her face and lay quiet for a long time, then she turned on me in a

"'To think of all I might have done with my money and my time! God wanted me to help the poor and siek; its too late now. I've only an hour.' She struggled up wildly. 'Why, doctor, I did nothing-nothing but lead the fashion! Great God! The fashion! Now, I've only an hour! An hour!' "But she had not even that, for the exertion proved fatal, and in a moment she lay dead at my feet." "No sermon that I ever heard was like that woman's despairing cry, "Its too late."

Advice on Choir Music.

Dear Miss:-This is an important epock into your life. The first thing to make a good quire singer is to giggle a little.

Put up your hair in kirl papers every Friday nite soze to have it in good shape Sunday morning. If your daddy is rich, you can buy some store hair. If he is very rich, buy some more and build it up high onto your head; then get a high-priced bunnit that runs up very high at the high part of it, and get the milliner the highest part.

When the tune is giv out, don't | Richmond or Atlanta in April next. | pay attention to it, and then giggle a good cel.

Whisper to the girl next you, that Em Jones, which sits on 2d seet from the front on the lef-hand side, has her bunnit with the same color exact she had last year, and then put up your book to your face and giggle. Object to every tune unless there is a solow into it for the soprano.

Coff and hem a good eel before you begin to sing. When you sing a selow shake the artifishels off your bunnit, & when you come to a high tone brace yourself back a little, twist your head to 1 side, shet the eye on the same side jest a triphle, and then put in for

When the preacher gets under hed way with his preachin', write a note onto the blank leaf into the fourth part of your note book. That's what the blank leaf was made for. Git sumbody to pass the note to sumbody else, and you watch them till they read it and then giggle.

If anybody talks or laffs in the congregashun, and the preacher takes notis of it, that's a good chants for you to giggle, and you ought to giggle a good eel. The preacher darsent say anything to you bekaus you are in the quire, and he can't run the meeting house at both ends with out the quire. If you had a bow before you went into the quire give him the mitter now.

Don't forget to giggle.

Hope.

Rev. Dr. Armitage. Did it ever occur to you what world of thought is wrapped up in that little word "hope?" Its very pronunciation makes every bosom bound and burn. It is music to the ear of the young, health to the sick, and life rejuvenated to the old. Poetry makes hope a formation, grief makes it a solace, and desolation makes it the brightest flower that adorns earthly ereation, while even disappointment and delusion whisper darkness out of the sky of today into sunshine of to-morrow. Sobbing sorrow may crush and cripple the soul, but hope gives it new elasticity. Nay, it may be humiliation in the dust, but hope will raise it up again. Hope is man's birthright, which, after all his blandishments, delusions, and mockeries, never maketh him ashamed to hope on, hope ever. Airy fancies may allure him and smiling faces beguile him into treachery, but hope flits eternal around the human head and breast, and hangs the rain-bow on the blackest cloud in all the chaste sparklings of an angel from immortal life. Thunderbolts may leap from the fair bow in the clouds, and hope may vanish as a fair scorner from that bright spot, but the faceinating form soon appears elsewhere in fairer robes than ever, and with a wreath of flowers to crown the child of endless disappointments. Now when you connect the word "hope" with "salvation," then what a wonderful word it becomes! At once it comes to measure man's most delightful Christian attainment. Indeed, so intimately is it associated with practical godliness, that religion itself is called a "good hope through grace." More than this, our God is called the God of hope, and his finished work is known as "the hope set before us in the gospel," while those who accept him are said "to rejoice in the hope of the glory of God."

True Marriage.

Theodore Parker.

A happy wedlock is a long falling in love. I know young persons think love belongs only to the brown bair and plump, round, crimson "The men left the room, and I cheeks. So it does for its beginning, just as Mount Washington begins at Boston day. But the golden marriage is a part of love which the bridal day knows nothing of. Youth is the tassel and silken flower of love; age is the full corn, ripe and solid in the ear. Beautiful is the morning of love, with its prophetic crimson, violet, saffron, purple and gold, with its hopes of days that are to come. Beautiful also is the evening of love, with its glad remembrance and its rainbow side turned toward heaven as well as earth.

Confederate Camp Flags.

New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Confederate stars and bars were in 1863 supplemented by the camp flag. This was in size and shape like the other, except that it was white, with no stripes, and the battle flag in the upper corner next the staff. It was found deficient in actual service in that, displaying so much white, it was sometimes apt to be mistaken for a flag of truce, and on Feb. 24, 1865, it gave place to the last flag of the Confederacy, the outer half being a red vertical bar. Appearing so late in the war, it was not so familiar as the others-in fact, it was comparatively little known.

Warren's Idea of Dying.

New York Tribune.

Warren, aged four years, had formed his ideas of angels and their forms from the study of certain steel engravings, and told his mother if she scolded him again he would "die and go right to heaven." Being told that that was easier said than done, and asked how he would get there, he answered without hesitation. "Oh. I would pile up all the chairs and tables and boxes and ladders as far as they would go, and then I 'spect an angel would come down and get me. And anyway I'd a good deal rather go that way than have things screwed into me!"

A Costume of Rattlesnake Skin.

Peter Gruber, the Rattlesnake King of Venango county, has made the most unique costume any man ever wore. It consists of coat, vest rousers, hat, shoes and shirt, and is made entirely of the skins of rattlesnakes. Seven hundred snakes, all caught and skinned by Gruber during the past five years, provided the material for this novel costume. To preserve the brilliancy and flexibility of the skins in the greatest possible degree, the snakes were skinned alive, first being made unconscious by chloroform. They were then tanned by a method peculiar to Gruber, and are as solf and elastic as woolen goods. The different articles for this outfit were made by Oil City tailors, shoemakers and hatters, and the costume is valued at $1000 .-Pittsburg Chronicle.
